BLOCKADE LIFTING DEADLINE NEARS

J. Edgar Hoover Rounds Out Quarter Century As Guiding Hand Of Famous And Feared FBI

WASHINGTON, May 10—John Edgar Hoover today rounds out a quarter of a century as director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He is a legend in the land and his name is a symbol of integrity in public service.

Official Washington knows no party lines in paying tribute to the No. One G-Man. When Hoover took charge of the FBI on May 10, 1924, he accepted the job on one condition: That the bureau be kept free of politics. He has never swerved from that policy.

The accomplishments of the FBI are unique and numerous. All of them bear the imprint of J. Edgar Hoover. He has set and maintained the bureau's standards of courage, zeal and incorruptibility.

Virtually all of Hoover's adult life has been in the service of the Department of Justice. He went to work there as a $900-a-year law clerk in 1917, when he was 22.

Four years later, he became assistant director of the old Bureau of Investigation, a loosely-organized agency operating under William J. Burns, the celebrated private detective.

A Justice Department shakeup in 1924 resulted in a decision to create an investigative weapon which could cope with the gangland empires spawned in the Prohibition era. Harlan Fiske Stone, then attorney general of the United States, chose Hoover as the man best fitted to wield that weapon.

The black-haired, tight-lipped Hoover built up his FBI with the dedicated energy of a missionary.

He set up rigid eligibility requirements for agents, organized an intensive training program, established laboratories, put crime detection on the level of a major science.

Hoover, now 54, became the scourge of that despicable headline-hog of the 1930's, "the public enemy." Aided by the fanatical loyalty of his elite corps of agents he made the term "G-Man" a synonym for cool, crisp courage.

It was an FBI investigation that started Scarface Al Capone on his way to a prison cell and signaled the end of the malignant reign of gangsterism.

It was the work of Hoover and the FBI that made kidnapping one of the most dangerous pursuits in which a criminal could engage.

The late President Roosevelt entrusted the FBI with responsibility for the internal security of the United States. How well Hoover and his men executed their mission is shown by the fact that not a single case of domestic sabotage occurred during World War II.

Just as he has been the deadliest enemy of the criminal, Hoover has become the nemesis of that other menace to America, the subservient agent.

No man alive has done more than J. Edgar Hoover to exterminate the termite-like Communists and others who seek to undermine the foundations of American Democracy.

Western Chiefs Set New Plan

Orders Issued To Berlin Mayor

BERLIN, May 10—The U.S., British and French commanders in Berlin today ordered the western sector city government to end all counter-blockade restrictions at one minute after midnight tomorrow, (5:01 p.m. EST Wednesday).

The West Berlin officials were instructed to lift all bans on shipments of commodities which have been denied to the Soviet zone since the Russian blockade of the city was instituted.

The orders came as Red army officers laid detailed plans for lifting the virtual siege which has isolated Berlin from land contact with the West.

The three-power order, which was addressed to West Berlin's Lord Mayor Ernst Reuter, said:

"ALL COUNTER blockade restrictions on communications, transport and trade since March 1, 1948, by the United States, French or British military governors or the Allies Kommandatura for Berlin, will be canceled."

The order instructed Reuter to issue the necessary orders to the chief of police and magistrate offices.

There was no sign that the Russians intended to act a moment before the deadline.

U.S. Military Commandant Brig. Gen. Frank L. Howley said the Soviets have not begun to supply any power to the western sector from the plants which they control.

He said that negotiations regarding the price and amount of power are in progress but that delivery will not begin until the blockade ends.

At the same time, the Western Allies readied food and passenger trains to cross the Soviet zone border promptly after the deadline fixed in the New York talks of the Big Four.

The Russian military government officials operated under orders issued late yesterday by Marshal Vassily Chuikov, Soviet commander in Germany.

CHUKOV DECREED that East-West communications, trade and transport between the Eastern and Western zones be restored to their pre-March 1, 1948, status promptly at the deadline.

The order stipulates that the West is to be permitted to send 16 trains a day to Berlin, bringing vital supplies for the German residents of the western sectors as well as the Allied garrisons. It also provides that traffic on the main Berlin-Helmstedt autobahn be allowed to resume, and sets up 11 traffic-control points on the Soviet zone border.

British officials readied a passenger train to start the post-blockade travel to Berlin just after midnight tomorrow. American trains from Frankfurt to the former German capital will follow.

The first Allied train from Berlin to the West is scheduled to leave at 1:15 p.m. Thursday.

Chukov's order retained restrictions on the movement of Western currency across the Soviet zone border, pending action by the Council of Foreign Ministers of the money question.

Cities May Levy Duplicate Taxes

COLUMBUS, May 10—Attorney General Herbert S. Duffy ruled in a far-reaching decision today that local governments may levy sales and liquor excise taxes in addition to those already being collected by the state upon approval of the legislature.

Duffy's ruling came in answer to a query by Gov. Frank J. Lausche, who asked:

"Do both the state of Ohio and the local governments have the authority to tax and license in the same field?"

The attorney general's ruling would also permit local governments to collect license fees from restaurants.

House Standing By To Vote On Contested Housing Bill

COLUMBUS, May 10—A bitter and close fight is expected late today if the Ohio house of representatives votes on two bills to exempt public housing units from taxation.

House leaders postponed until tomorrow a vote on concurrence in senate amendments to the FEPC bill—shorn of its compulsory provisions by the upper chamber—to permit the entire afternoon to be given to the housing measures.

If the bills pass, the 11 communities which now have federal housing units would—after another supreme court test—regain control of the properties.

In lieu of the taxes they do not now pay, they would pay to the local governments the maximum percentage of "shelter rent" permitted under federal aid housing laws.

"SHELTER RENT" is the total rent less such charges as heat, light and water charges. Based on the rents paid last year, the present ten percent maximum would mean $330,000 a year in payments to the 11 communities.

The units, located in Akron, Cincinnati, Columbus, Cleveland, Dayton, Hamilton, Portsmouth, Toledo, Warren, Youngstown and Zanesville, contribute nothing to local government costs. As federal property they are tax exempt.

Ohio enacted the first public housing law in the nation back in 1933—a law they are seeking to correct today—four years before the federal housing law was passed.

The Ohio law became the model for the nation and was copied by 44 other states.

When U.S. Sen John W. Bricker was Ohio's attorney general, he ruled the 1933 statute did exempt public housing from taxation, and the federal government then aided in the construction of the projects.

However, in 1945, the Ohio supreme court ruled in a taxpayer's suit that the law did not exempt the units.

RATHER THAN pay taxes on the units, the federal government took over title to the prop-

PANEL IGNORES 3 CASES

4 Men Are Indicted Here By Pickaway Grand Jury

Four true bills were returned by the Pickaway County May grand jury Monday.

Indicted by the panel were Ruby Claude Manley, 18, of Owensesville, Ky.; Harry Walden, 19, of York street; James Hill, 18, of Hayward avenue; and Charles Clevenger, 23, of Columbus.

Manley was indicted by the panel for grand larceny. The Kentuckian allegedly stole $285.37 worth of corn and equipment from the farm of John Kennedy of Orient Route 1 on March 12.

Walden was indicted on six counts of breaking and entering with intent to steal. He allegedly broke into and entered several Circleville business houses and residences during the last few months.

HILL ALSO was indicted on six counts of breaking and entering, in connection with most of the alleged entrances made by Walden, and Clevenger, third member of the trio, was indicted on five counts of breaking and entering.

The jurors ignored three other cases presented by Prosecuting Attorney Guy G. Cline, while passing two more on to the next term of court.

Cases ignored were against Parker Route, accused of fraud by Walter VanGundy; George Terflinger, accused of threatening two persons with a pistol; and Willard Hughes, charged with non-support.

Earlier in the day, Judge Randall had dismissed the second defense motion to dismiss the charges or direct the jury to give in a verdict of not guilty.

Pumpkin Films' To Be Released

WASHINGTON, May 10—The House voted today to turn over to the Justice Department the famous "pumpkin films" found in the possession of Ex-Communist Whittaker Chambers.

The action was taken at the request of the House Un-American Activities Committee. Rep. Wood, (D) Ga., its chairman, explained that the Justice Department asked for the microfilm for use in the forthcoming perjury trial of Alger Hiss, former State Department official.

Snyder, Mrs. Alton Cain, Warner Dresbach, George Crites, Leslie D. May, Daniel A. Bowman, Officer Turney Ross, Police Chief William F. McCrady, John Kennedy and Russell Congrove.

The jury, delivering its report late Monday afternoon, stated its inspection of Pickaway County jail revealed the quarters in good condition.

Sohio Trims Oil Prices

CLEVELAND, May 10—A half-cent-a-gallon drop in kerosene and fuel oil prices of the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio became effective today.

Standard Oil officials, who announced the drop yesterday, said it was the fourth price reduction since December.

The new price schedule in the Cleveland area will be 13½ cents a gallon for kerosene and No. 1 fuel oil and 12.7 cents for No. 3 fuel oil.

The flareup started when a group of war veterans, leaving the White House, quoted Mr. Truman as saying: "There are too many Byrds in Congress."

Sen. Byrd, (D) Va., who has opposed many of Mr. Truman's proposals, later issued a statement in which he accused the President of "dictatorship." He said:

"If the President means he will attempt to purge me from the Senate because I will not accept his dictatorship in matters of legislation I will be on hand when the purging starts."

Chief Wise To Be 52 On Wednesday; Pension To Be Sought Immediately

Circleville Fire Chief Palmer Wise will become 52 years old Wednesday—and eligible to retire under civil service rules.

The rules require members of the fire department to complete 25 years of service and to be 52 years old before they can apply for retirement pension. Chief Wise cleared the first hurdle last February.

He entered the department in 1924, became chief two years later. Since then he has directed the efforts of his men in fighting more than 2,000 fires. The blazes have included "everything from wagons to airplanes."

Chief Wise said Tuesday he fully intends to apply for retirement.

"At least I'll make out the application form. After that it's up to the pension board," he commented, adding:

"I'll hate to leave the department, just as anyone hates to leave a job that he likes. But 25

SENTIMENT CHANGE LACKINGHealth Insurance Program Said 'Dead' In Congress

WASHINGTON, May 10 — A House Democratic leader declared today that President Truman's medical insurance program "is dead for this session of Congress."

The Democratic chief said there is "no chance" that it will be favorably acted upon this year.

He added that "unless there is a change of sentiment on the part of members of Congress, nothing probably will be done next year either" before expiration of the 81st Congress.

Princess Sees Pope Despite Home Protests

ROME, May 10—Princess Margaret of England had an 18-minute audience with Pope Pius today, over the protests of British Protestants.

The pontiff received the young princess in his private study, and the Vatican was closed to all other visitors.

Margaret emerged from her audience smiling, visibly pleased with the visit.

The controversial audience—which had been marked in England by appeals to King George to forestall it—was surrounded in papal ceremony.

Polish General Says Reds Try Foment Upset

WASHINGTON, May 10—A former Polish military attaché declared today that Communist agents are trying to foment revolution and economic disorder in the United States in preparation for war.

The ex-Polish army officer, Gen. Izydor Modelska, testified before a Senate Judiciary Subcommittee on Communist espionage and subversive activities in the United States.

Modelska said:

"They (the Communists) are preparing to steal secret weapons and armaments and if the economic situation will permit, there will be war."

"This was told to me by Soviet Admiral Glinko in 1947. He said that the Russians will decide when war should come with the United States."

Modelska branded the Polish embassy in Washington as the "center of a spying apparatus and subversive activities directed against the United States."

The latest link in the system of bad weather aids, a 1,650-foot long row of the world's brightest lights, is to be dedicated tonight by officials of major airlines, the city of Cleveland and technical experts in all-weather flying.

Coal Demand Slump Predicted

CLEVELAND, May 10—A substantial slump in the 1949 demand for bituminous coal was predicted here today at the 20th annual coal convention of the American Mining Congress.

George A. Lamb, manager of business surveys for the Pittsburgh Consolidation Co., estimated that this year's bituminous market will total only about 500 million tons because of the warm winter and the dumping of residual fuel oil.

Mainly About People

ONE MINUTE PULPIT
It is quite easy to lose spiritual vision, we then live like animals. This we never should permit. We are more than animals, we are immortals and should live higher kind of life. Where there is no vision, the people cast off restraint.—Prov. 29:18.

Howard Mettler, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mettler of Circleville Route 4, was released Monday to his home from Berger hospital, where he had submitted to appendectomy. His condition is good.

Mrs. Brasheir, Spencer coster, will be in Circleville, 138 Watt St., every Thursday. For appointment call 485X. —ad.

Mrs. Hudson Keaton of 218 East Corwin street was admitted as a medical patient Monday in Berger hospital.

The proposal has an imposing list of sponsors behind it, both in and out of Congress.

Its enactment is vigorously opposed by the American Medical Association and other organizations, some of whom have advanced their own voluntary medical programs.

The AMA has assessed each of its 141,000 member doctors $25 to fight the proposal.

The President urged, in addition to the compulsory program, that Congress extend aid to medical schools through grants, expansion of their facilities, and scholarships, and that Congress extend financial aid to the states for hospital construction.

Polish General Says Reds Try Foment Upset

WASHINGTON, May 10—A former Polish military attaché declared today that Communist agents are trying to foment revolution and economic disorder in the United States in preparation for war.

The ex-Polish army officer, Gen. Izydor Modelska, testified before a Senate Judiciary Subcommittee on Communist espionage and subversive activities in the United States.

Modelska said:

"They (the Communists) are preparing to steal secret weapons and armaments and if the economic situation will permit, there will be war."

"This was told to me by Soviet Admiral Glinko in 1947. He said that the Russians will decide when war should come with the United States."

Modelska branded the Polish embassy in Washington as the "center of a spying apparatus and subversive activities directed against the United States."

At the annual meeting of the College of Law Alumni Association of Ohio State University held Saturday in Columbus, Ralph N. Mahaffey, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mahaffey of Ashville, received an award in recognition of his services as a member of the editorial board of the Ohio State Law Journal. Young Mahaffey, a junior in the college of law, is vice-president of the Ohio State Student Bar Association.

SENTIMENT CHANGE LACKINGHealth Insurance Program Said 'Dead' In Congress

WASHINGTON, May 10 — A House Democratic leader declared today that President Truman's medical insurance program "is dead for this session of Congress."

The Democratic chieftain said there is "no chance" that it will be favorably acted upon this year.

He added that "unless there is a change of sentiment on the part of members of Congress, nothing probably will be done next year either" before expiration of the 81st Congress.

The Democratic leader is

Princess Sees Pope Despite Home Protests

ROME, May 10—Princess Margaret of England had an 18-minute audience with Pope Pius today, over the protests of British Protestants.

The pontiff received the young princess in his private study, and the Vatican was closed to all other visitors.

Margaret emerged from her audience smiling, visibly pleased with the visit.

The controversial audience—which had been marked in England by appeals to King George to forestall it—was surrounded in papal ceremony.

The princess arrived at the Vatican by car and was received there by two knights of the Vatican dressed in flowing capes with swords at their sides.

Acting Papal Chamberlain Msgr. Calleri di Vignale took charge of Margaret's party, escorting the visitors through a succession of red-carpeted, beautifully tapestried halls in the papal apartment.

When the party reached the Sala San Giovanni, Msgr. Diego Venini, acting private chamberlain, announced Princess Margaret to the pope.

Solons Battle For Leadership

CLEVELAND, May 10—Councilmen Thad Fusco and Jack Russell will be rematched in a caucus this week in the second round of their fight for the Democratic leadership of Cleveland city council.

Paul Betley, third contestant for the vacant floor leadership post, was eliminated from the battle last night after the caucus failed to pick a winner in 14 tries.

Neither Fusco nor Russell could get the 12 votes needed for the post vacated last week by the resignation of Henry Speeth to become a county commissioner.

Hearing Readied In Stab Case

CLEVELAND, May 10—John Hrehov, 26-year-old confessed slayer of three Cleveland youths in a street fight, was expected to be arraigned today in common pleas court.

Hrehov, who stabbed the three to death and seriously wounded a fourth man early Sunday, was cited in a manslaughter warrant late yesterday by Police Prosecutor Joseph Stearns.

Stearns expressed the opinion that Hrehov apparently acted in self-defense, but said that the county grand jury should decide whether he should stand trial.

RED 'JAMMINGS' FAILINGDiplomatic Success Seen In East-West 'Word War'

LONDON, May 10—A diplomatic success with few parallels was recorded with information indicating that a joint Anglo-American "broadcast bombardment" of Soviet Russia and her satellites is getting through to destination.

Against unprecedented competition by Kremlin "jamming," the people of Russia and her neighbor nations are being told of the full facts behind suspension of the Berlin blockade.

They are being informed in advance of the true circumstances that surround the forthcoming meeting of the Big Four Council of Foreign Ministers in Paris.

They are being told that this historic convocation of world leaders is bid for peace—not a "peace for our time" as so tragically invoked by the late Sir Neville Chamberlain—but a real agreement among nations.

THE DIFFICULTIES involved in placing the true facts of the situation before the rigidly-controlled Russian people are great indeed.

4-H Girls Plan To Decorate Tarlton Graves

The senior 4-H Stitch and Chatter Club decided to continue their usual community project of decorating the 83 soldiers graves in Tarlton cemetery on Memorial Day. The group also decided to attend Tarlton Methodist church on Children's Day.

These decisions were reached when the group met for their second meeting in the home of the secretary, Faye O'Hara. Junior leaders were assigned to the younger members of the club. All members reported their progress on the first safety checkup.

The work period was spent in outlining the year's program and adopting a new constitution.

Ruth Tucker gave her first health lecture. Assignments for the next meeting are: acquire patterns and material, demonstration how to fit a pattern by Faye O'Hara and Lois Defenbaugh, demonstration on how to lay a pattern on material by Barbara and Mary Ann Defenbaugh.

Mrs. George O'Hara assisted her daughter in serving a lunch. Games were directed by Barbara Defenbaugh.

Wanted Man Seriously Ill

TOLEDO, May 10—Lucas County officials today expressed the fear it will be at least a month before William Thompson, former head of the now-defunct White Construction Co. of Toledo, can face extradition proceedings in Indianapolis.

The county authorities were notified last night by Dr. Joseph S. Beam, medical director of the prison ward of Indianapolis General hospital, that Thompson must stay in bed at least 30 days.

Dr. Beam stated that examination of Thompson's heart showed that he had suffered a blood clot in one of the arteries to the organ four years ago and another Wednesday.

Hawkeye Soybean Seed Trickling Into Ohio Now

This Spring, for the first time, seed is available for the new Hawkeye Soybean, agronomists of Ohio State university have announced.

However, Larry A. Best, Pickaway County agricultural agent Tuesday warned that although a few Hawkeye beans have been shipped in from the west, farmers for the most part will not be able to get all this particular variety that they might want this season.

This new high yielding soybean is recommended for all parts of Ohio and is especially adapted for preceding Winter wheat except in the northeastern corner of the state.

According to Best, the new Hawkeye Soybeans will mature as early as Richland Soybeans and five or six days earlier than Lincoln Soybeans.

It has the straw strength and standing ability of the Richland Soybean, which, up to now, has been the best available variety in this respect. The straw's slightly taller and the yields have been three to four bushels per acre better than the Richland Soybean and about equal to the Lincoln Soybean.

The oil and protein content is high. Over a four-year period the protein content exceeded that of Lincoln and Richland Soybeans by one pound per hundred pounds of soybeans; and the oil content was equivalent to that of Lincoln Soybeans. These high oil and protein contents make this bean very suitable to soybean processors and to the livestock industry as a protein supplement.

Rubber Union Parley Booked

AKRON, May 10—Final negotiations will open May 23 in Chicago on a new uniform agreement between the B. F. Goodrich Co. and the CIO-United Rubber Workers union.

The Chicago date was set late yesterday following a preliminary parley in Akron between company and union officials.

The URW is seeking a 25-cent-hourly wage increase, $100-a-month pension and a health and welfare program.

Sokolovsky, until recently military governor of Germany, wrote in Pravda that Russia now has "the most advanced, and mightiest modern armed forces." A Pravda editorial commemorating V-E Day stressed the same theme and artillery salvos were fired in the USSR's major cities to mark the Soviet victory over Germany.

Sokolovsky, now deputy minister of armed forces, said:

"The Soviet people are now carrying out the Stalin post-war five-year plan under conditions of fierce struggle between the imperialist and anti-imperialist camps."

The anti-democratic camp, headed by the United States, is preparing a new war. The Atlantic Pact is directed against the Soviet Union and is the most striking index of the aggressive policies of the U.S."

The Communist Daily, in an editorial on the fourth anniversary of the German surrender, alerted the Soviet people against "instigators making an attempt on the peace won at the price of great sacrifices."

INCLUDED in testimony at the trial of eleven Red party leaders in New York was the name of Ralph Shaw (above), chairman of the Missouri State Communist Party. Witness Thomas Younslowe testified that Shaw passed on a message allegedly from Soviet Premier Stalin, declaring that if war with the Soviet was near, the party in the U.S. must go underground. Jackson Cooking Club Is Formed; Officers Named

An initial meeting of a cooking and sewing 4-H Club of Jackson Township was held in the school building of that township.

Miss Genevieve Alley, Pickaway County home demonstration agent, was present to explain projects. The group decided on a project entitled "Let's Cook." Club meetings were planned to be held the first and third Wednesday of every month. A name for the club will be decided upon at the June first meeting.

Mrs. Forrest Short and Mrs. Fred Ruggin are serving as advisors of the club. The girls elected Nancy Easter, president; Ida Warner, vice-president; Ann Bingmer, secretary; Nancy Neff treasurer; Mary Krimmel, news reporter; Ann Short, recreation leader; and Gladys Hulse, health officer.

The first student to enroll at Yale university, which was chartered on Oct. 9, 1701, was Jacob Heminway.

Do You Really Want to Take Off Ugly Fat?

Recently there have been a number of new reducing preparations on the market, some of them based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It is obvious that vitamins will not reduce the body weight, so one must depend on diet to reduce. But it is also obvious that one cannot go on a strenuous diet over a protracted period, and any weight lost will be restored if the former eating habits are gone back to.

So what to do? Well, here is a tip to you "overweight gals" who want to fight "the Battle of the Bulges" in a different way. Ask any well stocked Ohio druggist for four ounces of Rennel. Mix with 12 ounces of grapefruit juice and take two tablespoonsful twice a day.

This preparation contains nothing harmful and the makers agree to refund your money on the very first bottle if it does not show you the way to lose ugly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves.

Rennel is low in cost and is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Rennel.

Two Circleville men have been appointed members of an attendance committee for an all-state meeting of Masons in Columbus May 28, during which a group of about 30 Winnipeg chapter Masons will confer the Royal Arch Degree in the capital city's Masonic Temple.

The local men are Adrian McVay, high priest, and George E. Roth, secretary of the Circleville Chapter. Roscoe R. Walcutt of Columbus is general committee chairman. Special entertainment is planned for visiting Masons and their wives.

The Winnipeg group will represent the grand chapter of Royal Arch Masons of Manitoba, the first Canadian grand chapter to affiliate with the general grand chapter of Royal Arch Masons, and the first such affiliate to visit the United States.

2 Men Fined As Reckless

Reckless driving resulted in fines of $20 each for two motorists in mayor's court Monday.

Dale Edgar Evans, 31, of Richwood was accused of operating a truck without regard to the safety of others. He was arrested at the intersection of Court and Corwin streets by Patrolman George Green.

Charles Wenger of Columbus was accused of reckless driving on U. S. Route 23 by Curtiss Dumm, a motorist.

RED 'JAMMINGS' FAILINGDiplomatic Success Seen In East-West 'Word War'

LONDON, May 10—A diplomatic success with few parallels was recorded with information indicating that a joint Anglo-American "broadcast bombardment" of Soviet Russia and her satellites is getting through to destination.

Against unpreceded competition by Kremlin "jamming," the people of Russia and her neighbor nations are being told of the full facts behind suspension of the Berlin blockade.

They are being informed in advance of the true circumstances that surround the forthcoming meeting of the Big Four Council of Foreign Ministers in Paris.

They are being told that this historic convocation of world leaders is a bid for peace—not a "peace for our time" as so tragically invoked by the late Sir Neville Chamberlain—but a real agreement among nations.

THE DIFFICULTIES involved in placing the true facts of the situation before the rigidly-controlled Russian people are great indeed.

4-H Girls Plan To Decorate Tarlton Graves

The senior 4-H Stitch and Chatter Club decided to continue their usual community project of decorating the 83 soldiers graves in Tarlton cemetery on Memorial Day. The group also decided to attend Tarlton Methodist church on Children's Day.

These decisions were reached when the group met for their second meeting in the home of the secretary, Faye O'Hara. Junior leaders were assigned to the younger members of the club. All members reported their progress on the first safety check up.

The work period was spent in outlining the year's program and adopting a new constitution.

Ruth Tucker gave her first health lecture. Assignments for the next meeting are: acquire patterns and material, demonstration how to fit a pattern by Faye O'Hara and Lois Defenbaugh, demonstration on how to lay a pattern on material by Barbara and Mary Ann Defenbaugh.

Mrs. George O'Hara assisted her daughter in serving a lunch. Games were directed by Barbara Defenbaugh.

Wanted Man Seriously Ill

TOLEDO, May 10—Lucas County officials today expressed the fear it will be at least a month before William Thompson, former head of the now-defunct White Construction Co. of Toledo, can face extradition proceedings in Indianapoliis.

The county authorities were notified last night by Dr. Joseph S. Beam, medical director of the prison ward of Indianapolis General hospital, that Thompson must stay in bed at least 30 days.

Dr. Beam stated that examination of Thompson's heart showed that he had suffered a blood clot in one of the arteries to the organ four years ago and another Wednesday.

sets in the Soviet Union is infinitesimal in comparison with those of the United States.

Radio technicians agree that it is far easier to blot out a radio broadcast than it is to create one.

The Russians have literally hundreds of "jamming" stations that are able by the turn of a dial or the addition of more power to put off the air the immensely valuable flow of news that in the final analysis is the only antidote to Soviet propaganda.

The present "war of words" on the radio must inevitably bring to mind the evil genius who originally thrust to public attention the value of the microphone in compelling public attention.

He was, of course, Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels of the University of Heidelberg, who managed by his magnificent use of the language to build a national idol out of a man whom Winston Churchill called "a guttersnipe from the streets of Vienna."

His whole conception of governmental policy and imposition of Nazi rule upon the world was based upon the one thesis that a loud voice proclaiming Nazism as the savior of mankind was the cure for all the ills of the world.

GOEBBELS failed entirely—suicide along with Adolf Hitler himself.

But he set an example of propaganda procedure that has not been without value.

His argument always was that if you say a thing often enough an appreciable number of people are going to believe it.

The "Voice Of America"—quite obviously—is presenting a set of circumstances that stands on its own feet.

Soviet Marshal Warns America Readyng War

MOSCOW, May 10—Soviet Marshal Vasily Sokolovsky accused the United States today of preparing for a new war and reminded the world of "the lessons of the second world war."

Sokolovsky, until recently military governor of Germany, wrote in Pravda that Russia now has "the most advanced, and mightiest modern armed forces." A Pravda editorial commemorating V-E Day stressed the same theme and artillery salvos were fired in the USSR's major cities to mark the Soviet victory over Germany.

Sokolovsky, now deputy minister of armed forces, said:

"The Soviet people are now carrying out the Stalin post-war five-year plan under conditions of fierce struggle between the imperialist and anti-imperialist camps."

The anti-democratic camp, headed by the United States, is preparing a new war. The Atlantic Pact is directed against the Soviet Union and is the most striking index of the aggressive policies of the U.S."

The Communist Daily, in an editorial on the fourth anniversary of the German surrender, alerted the Soviet people against "instigators making an attempt on the peace won at the price of great sacrifices."

Hawkeye Soybean Seed Trickling Into Ohio Now

This Spring, for the first time, seed is available for the new Hawkeye Soybean, agronomists of Ohio State university have announced.

However, Larry A. Best, Pickaway County agricultural agent Tuesday warned that although a few Hawkeye beans have been shipped in from the west, farmers for the most part will not be able to get all this particular variety that they might want this year.

This new high yielding soybean is recommended for all parts of Ohio and is especially adapted for preceding Winter wheat except in the northeastern corner of the state.

According to Best, the new Hawkeye Soybeans will mature as early as Richland Soybeans and five or six days earlier than Lincoln Soybeans.

It has the straw strength and standing ability of the Richland Soybean, which, up to now, has been the best available variety in this respect. The straw's slightly taller and the yields have been three to four bushels per acre better than the Richland Soybean and about equal to the Lincoln Soybean.

The oil and protein content is high. Over a four-year period the protein content exceeded that of Lincoln and Richland Soybeans by one pound per one-hundred pounds of soybeans; and the oil content was equivalent to that of Lincoln Soybeans.

These high oil and protein contents make this bean very suitable to soybean processors and to the livestock industry as a protein supplement.

Rubber Union Parley Booked

AKRON, May 10—Final negotiations will open May 23 in Chicago on a new uniform agreement between the B. F. Goodrich Co. and the CIO-United Rubber Workers union.

The Chicago date was set late yesterday following a preliminary parley in Akron between company and union officials.

The Goodrich negotiations are expected to be the forerunner of a series of battles by the rubber unions for higher wages with other companies.

The URW is seeking a 25-cent-hourly wage increase, $100-a-month pension and a health and welfare program.

NO SOLUTION IN WAR

GEN. Lucius D. Clay, retiring military governor of the United States zone of Germany, certainly has earned the right to speak with authority on the subject of relations between Russian Communism and Western Democracy. The final considered word of the general, preparing to leave Germany, was that the basic struggle between the two political philosophies will continue. But he does not believe that the struggle inevitably has to blossom into a war, and he said: "War will not solve the problem."

Young Roosevelt wanted the Democratic nomination. He worked to get it. He tried to force himself on the Democratic Party. They turned him down for the good reason that he does not belong; he is an outsider and represents nothing but his father's name, which may or may not be a political asset depending on how the wind blows next Tuesday when the election is to be held.

Franklin Roosevelt Jr. never lived in this district. There is no reason why he should know the people of it or their problems. He is neither by ancestry, birth, education, interests nor habits a part of them. His only excuse for wanting to represent them is that he wants to. He apparently dares not run in his own district, which is on the other side of town where the rich live. We are essentially a middle-class district, mostly of Jewish and Irish ancestry. Sol Bloom fitted this district perfectly; so would either Shalleck or McIntyre.

When Roosevelt could not get the Democratic nomination, he took one from David Dubinsky's Liberal Party. While most of the inhabitants of this district respect Dubinsky, they think of him as a labor leader, not as a politician handing out nominations. It stands to reason also that if people generally in this country, and the people who have the power to control in the other countries concerned, should become convinced that there would not be any solution in war, then the possibility of war would fade away. The word of historians is that seldom in history has a war contributed to the solution of any basic problem of human relations. There is also the contemporary word of General Clay and many others of equal standing, who are willing to state flatly that war would not solve this problem.

"BEFORE the Marshall Plan we had meat twice a week in our family. Now we have it every day in the week." This was what Count Carlo Sforza, Italian foreign minister, told Washington correspondents in a recent interview. Probably most Italians are not quite so well off as the count, but perhaps his report is an accurate indication of the effect of the Marshall Plan on the personal lives of people in Europe. If so the plan is really achieving its deep political goal, which is to lift the economic level and the standard of living for Europeans, so that for one thing they will be less susceptible to the blandishments of Communism.

A perfect example of the pot calling the kettle black was furnished by the New York City Communist who resigned from an American Legion post because its officers were "bigots." Anyone more bigoted than a Communist would be hard to find, unless it is someone who is merely against Communism without really being for anything.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

In the congressional district where I live, a special election is being held to elect a representative to replace the colorful Sol Bloom, who recently died. The election would have passed unnoticed except for the self-interjection of Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., son of the president of the same name. Junior apparently regards this as a golden opportunity to begin a political career.

Four candidates are running: The aforesaid Roosevelt on the Liberal Party ticket and some improvisation called the Four Freedoms Party. Nobody ever heard of this new thing—something pulled together by petition to give Junior a second line on the ballot so that those who refuse to vote for the Liberal Party have another means for voting for him. The Republicans have nominated William H. McIntyre, an official of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

The Democrats have nominated Judge Benjamin Shalleck, a distinguished lawyer and judge who most nearly is representative of the people of the district. The Communists have presented us with Dr. Annette Rubinstein, who is fighting Stalin's battles on Upper Broadway.

Young Roosevelt wanted the Democratic nomination. He worked to get it. He tried to force himself on the Democratic Party. They turned him down for the good reason that he does not belong; he is an outsider and represents nothing but his father's name, which may or may not be a political asset depending on how the wind blows next Tuesday when the election is to be held.

Franklin Roosevelt Jr. never lived in this district. There is no reason why he should know the people of it or their problems. He is neither by ancestry, birth, education, interests nor habits a part of them. His only excuse for wanting to represent them is that he wants to. He apparently dares not run in his own district, which is on the other side of town where the rich live. We are essentially a middle-class district, mostly of Jewish and Irish ancestry. Sol Bloom fitted this district perfectly; so would either Shalleck or McIntyre.

When Roosevelt could not get the Democratic nomination, he took one from David Dubinsky's Liberal Party. While most of the inhabitants of this district respect Dubinsky, they think of him as a labor leader, not as a politician handing out nominations.

Besides, Dubinsky does not live in our district any more than Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. does. It seems to many that we should be permitted to manage our own affairs, to have as our representative in Congress, a neighbor, one of our own kind, who knows what our special problems are and will act accordingly. That is the business of a representative, as intended by the Constitution, and we understand it.

So, when Junior decided to run for Congress and picked us, he took a room in the Esplanade hotel, which is right opposite the tenement in which I live. I have not asked the elevator boys how often he has been there because I am not a snooper, but this hotel is not his normal habitat. Without any reflection on the hotel or its guests or on my block or my neighbors, I cannot imagine his picking this particular part of town to live in. Neither his father, his mother nor any of his brothers ever did and Junior never did until he decided that Congress needs a Roosevelt and he picked himself. I shall not vote for him.

DIET AND HEALTHSymptoms of Angina Pectoris Easy for Doctor to Diagnose

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THERE is this to be said for angina pectoris—it creates such unmistakable symptoms that it can seldom be ignored by the patient or confused by the doctor with any other form of heart disease.

When it is suspected that a person has this disorder, he should, of course, be carefully studied by his physician, and an electrocardiogram made. This is an electric tracing of the heart beat, and is helpful in the diagnosis.

Decide Treatment

The physician will decide in each case just what treatment is necessary. In every case, of course, chilling, overstrain, and emotional upsets, which tend to bring on the attacks, must be avoided. These patients are supplied also with nitroglycerine which they can take when an attack threatens.

There are many facts concerning angina pectoris which still must be determined by scientific study and experimentation. This is true in regard to many forms of heart disease, and it is important that such scientific studies be undertaken if the dangers of heart disease are to be eliminated.

Classic Picture

This is the classic picture, but sometimes the pain may be slight and in a little different location. Now and then, for instance, it may be felt chiefly in the upper part of the abdomen. Not only may the pain pass into the shoulder and arm but upward into the neck to the left side of the face. In severe cases, the pain may pass upward into both hands.

This passage of the pain to various parts of the body is known as radiation. If the area of radiation should change, it may indicate that further changes in the heart may have occurred, such as further narrowing of the opening through the coronary arteries.

In addition to the pain, there may be other symptoms, such as sweating, weakness, fainting, collapse, dizziness, and shortness of breath. However, all of these symptoms are not present in every case, and it is on the pain and its characteristics that the diagnosis of angina pectoris is made.

When it is suspected that a person has this disorder, he should, of course, be carefully studied by his physician, and an electrocardiogram made. This is an electric tracing of the heart beat, and is helpful in the diagnosis.

Chip

Chip considered all this thoughtfully, then mustered his accumulated arguments. "I might have ridden away this afternoon and said nothing," he remarked. "I couldn't do that to you, Hope. But just the same, I'm thinking you'd better not come with us."

She glanced at him sharply. "We made a deal," she said.

"Oh, yes. He used to come now and then when I was a small girl. I remember him faintly from those days—a tall, blonde man with sad eyes. He'd take me out for the day; always we went to a noodle parlor in Helena's Chinatown, a very fascinating place with soft lights and silent, courteous waiters. I used to wait for those days, Chip, like the other children waiting for Christmas. But when I was about twelve, he quit coming."

Singin' Sam blew his nose vigorously, and Chip, finding many questions but no words to voice them, held silent.

"The rest of the years don't count," Hope went on. "When I finished my schooling, I was qualified for a teacher's certificate. By then I was old enough to be determined to find out a few things. I went to the sisters who were heads of the school and demanded some facts. They showed me my birth certificate, and it was then that I learned that my name was Hope Brennan Rayburn. They said that my father had insisted that I be enrolled under the shorter name."

"And they told you where your father was?"

Hope shook her head. "They claimed they didn't know. Each month a check had come to pay for my tuition—a cashier's check from the Tumblerock bank. So that's what fetched me to Tumblerock six months ago."

Sherby Chip said, "Now I'm beginning to savvy why you'd dislike a worthless galoot like me. Shucks, I've thrown away the very things that would have been worth a million dollars to you."

Hope said, "The bank at Tumblerock was exasperatingly vague about those checks that had gone to Helena, so I went straight to the bank's owner—Seton Alessandro. He readily admitted full knowledge of the entire affair and

CHAPTER FOURTEEN

CHIP would have preferred to have Hope stay with them, and he found himself lonely after she'd gone, this in spite of Singin' Sam's garrulous company. Chip had never taken a girl seriously, but he'd known no girl like this one, courageous and competent, quick to think and quick to act. Already he owed her a mountainous debt, and he knew of no coin by which to pay her. She'd held him in contempt at their first meeting, deeming him a worthless wastrel who'd thrown away a fine heritage. He wondered if subsequent events had tempered her opinion.

Inactivity weighed heavily upon him that long afternoon. He bandaged the wound Tate Strunk had given him that stormy night and found it healing nicely. He paced the width of this little glade a score of times and made desultory talk with Singin' Sam. Near sundown Hope returned, and he was eager to meet her as she slipped from her saddle.

"You're tired," he said. "Here, come sit on a saddle blanket."

Smiling, she accepted the invitation. "I think we can start for Forlorn soon," she reported. "Things are pretty quiet; about the only riders who are out are those who work for Alessandro's ranch. You know, I think that crew of him was the backbone of the mob last night. A bandanna over a man's face doesn't change the style of his clothes or the width of his shoulders, and I'm sure I recognized more than one as I watched you join the mob, Chip. They're a hardcase lot, those riders of Alessandro's, with a hard-case foreman, a fellow called Colorado Jack Ives."

Chip considered all this thoughtfully, then mustered his accumulated arguments. "I might have ridden away this afternoon and said nothing," he remarked. "I couldn't do that to you, Hope. But just the same, I'm thinking you'd better not come with us."

She nodded. "He left just before I discovered you out in the yard."

"What did he have to say for himself, miss?" Singin' Sam asked.

"Like Alessandro, he urged me to go away. He claimed he could never leave Forlorn Valley, and he said he'd quit coming to see me to come and see me, and he did. The night before last."

"Wait!" Chip cried and felt excitement tingle along his spine.

"You mean your father came to the schoolhouse the night of the storm?"

She nodded. "He left just before I discovered you out in the yard."

"You mean your father came to the schoolhouse the night of the storm?"

She nodded. "He left just before I discovered you out in the yard."

"What did he have to say for himself, miss?" Singin' Sam asked.

"Like Alessandro, he urged me to go away. He claimed he could never leave Forlorn Valley, and he said he'd quit coming to see me to come and see me, and he did. The night before last."

"Wait!" Chip cried and felt excitement tingle along his spine.

NO SOLUTION IN WAR

GEN. Lucius D. Clay, retiring military governor of the United States zone of Germany, certainly has earned the right to speak with authority on the subject of relations between Russian Communism and Western Democracy. The final considered word of the general, preparing to leave Germany, was that the basic struggle between the two political philosophies will continue. But he does not believe that the struggle inevitably has to blossom into a war, and he said: "War will not solve the problem."

Young Roosevelt wanted the Democratic nomination. He worked to get it. He tried to force himself on the Democratic Party. They turned him down for the good reason that he does not belong; he is an outsider and represents nothing but his father's name, which may or may not be a political asset depending on how the wind blows next Tuesday when the election is to be held.

Franklin Roosevelt Jr. never lived in this district. There is no reason why he should know the people of it or their problems. He is neither by ancestry, birth, education, interests nor habits a part of them. His only excuse for wanting to represent them is that he wants to. He apparently dares not run in his own district, which is on the other side of town where the rich live. We are essentially a middle-class district, mostly of Jewish and Irish ancestry. Sol Bloom fitted this district perfectly; so would either Shalleck or McIntyre.

When Roosevelt could not get the Democratic nomination, he took one from David Dubinsky's Liberal Party. While most of the inhabitants of this district respect Dubinsky, they think of him as a labor leader, not as a politician handing out nominations.

Besides, Dubinsky does not live in our district any more than Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. does. It seems to many that we should be permitted to manage our own affairs, to have as our representative in Congress, a neighbor, one of our own kind, who knows what our special problems are and will act accordingly. That is the business of a representative, as intended by the Constitution, and we understand it.

So, when Junior decided to run for Congress and picked us, he took a room in the Esplanade hotel, which is right opposite the tenement in which I live. I have not asked the elevator boys how often he has been there because I am not a snooper, but this hotel is not his normal habitat. Without any reflection on the hotel or its guests or on my block or my neighbors, I cannot imagine his picking this particular part of town to live in. Neither his father, his mother nor any of his brothers ever did and Junior never did until he decided that Congress needs a Roosevelt and he picked himself. I shall not vote for him.

SPRING is the beginning of the joyful time when, as Chaucer observed long ago, "Than longen folk to goon on pilgrimages."

A perfect example of the pot calling the kettle black was furnished by the New York City Communist who resigned from an American Legion post because its officers were "bigots." Anyone more bigoted than a Communist would be hard to find, unless it is someone who is merely against Communism without really being for anything.

It long has been Taft's contention that the defeat-ridden GOP should shuffle the political deck anew and go after the "grass roots" votes. Taff "behind the scenes" influence was potent in the three-day meeting of the GOP high command in Washington.

Taff, to date, approves the Republican record in the Eighty-First Congress, which he is directing, more or less, in the Senate. Labor is out to beat Taff in 1950. If he wins, his hat will be very much in the presidential ring in 1952.

FROZEN FACTS—The desire of the United States to learn everything possible about the effects of sub-polar climates on the individual has led to some startling discoveries and complete reversals of preconceived notions about living in sub-freezing climates.

Medicos working with the Defense department in the Far North, for instance, have come up with these facts:

Never rub a frozen face, or any other frozen part of the body with snow. Instead, place frozen surfaces in warm water.

Don't drink whisky to keep warm. It has been proved that alcohol dilates facial pores and quickens the cooling-off process.

Cold has about the same effect on all men, whether they come from north or south. Extremely thin persons have been found to suffer more in cold climates. Fat persons, on the other hand, do not seem to be any better "protected" against cold than normal persons.

Lack of food is not necessarily fatal. Four detachments of troops lived on a diet varying from 3,500 calories a day for the first group, down to two glasses of water daily for the fourth unit. At the end of six days, the fourth group members reported weakness but were still active.

Ramsey apparently realized the jig was up with Johnson, an Air Force proponent, in office, and gave up to become head of the aircraft industry's national trade association.

Resignation of Secretary of Navy John L. Sullivan provided something of a "bitter end" chapter, with Congress apparently interested in getting some more "low down" on the situation.

TAFT AND THE FARM VOTE—Behind the decision of the Republican national executive committee to call a conference of farm experts and launch an immediate drive to recapture the farm vote is the upsurging power of Senate GOP policy leader Robert A. Taft

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

In the congressional district where I live, a special election is being held to elect a representative to replace the colorful Sol Bloom, who recently died. The election would have passed unnoticed except for the self-interjection of Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., son of the president of the same name. Junior apparently regards this as a golden opportunity to begin a political career.

Four candidates are running: The aforementioned Roosevelt on the Liberal Party ticket and some improvisation called the Four Freedoms Party. Nobody ever heard of this new thing—something pulled together by petition to give Junior a second line on the ballot so that those who refuse to vote for the Liberal Party have another means for voting for him. The Republicans have nominated William H. McIntyre, an official of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

The Democrats have nominated Judge Benjamin Shalleck, a distinguished lawyer and judge who most nearly is representative of the people of the district. The Communists have presented us with Dr. Annette Rubinstein, who is fighting Stalin's battles on Upper Broadway.

Young Roosevelt wanted the Democratic nomination. He worked to get it. He tried to force himself on the Democratic Party. They turned him down for the good reason that he does not belong; he is an outsider and represents nothing but his father's name, which may or may not be a political asset depending on how the wind blows next Tuesday when the election is to be held.

Try, Stop Me

From Delos Avery comes a story of the legendary tyrant Ying-Nu, who was husband to a hundred surpassingly beautiful wives. For a time, all was bliss in the household, then a tragic day arrived.

"One of you incredibly lovely ladies," he announced to them sadly from his golden throne, "apparently has been betraying my secrets to my enemies. It would break my heart to discover which one it is. I must let the somewhat harsh law take its course. Let each tenth one of you come forth, for ten must die."

But when Ying-Nu beheld the tears of the ten and observed their reluctance to have their heads chopped off, his stern features relaxed. "No, no," he cried. "It shall not be! Am I not known as a man of some compassion? There shall be instead a feast with wine and music. Come!" And Ying-Nu gently led the ten away, whispering softly to the executioner as he passed, "Off with the heads of the other nine."

TRUMAN SETBACK—Democratic leaders privately concede that President Truman's compulsory National Health Insurance program virtually is doomed.

There is a strong movement afoot in the Senate to eliminate the compulsory payroll tax insurance feature and retain the rest of the program.

Most of the other provisions are similar to those contained in bills submitted by leading Republicans and Democrats who are championing "voluntary" programs.

House leaders report a lukewarm response to the compulsory plan. However, they say that if the administration waits until elections are held next year, Mr. Truman's bill might go through.

Symptoms of Angina Pectoris Easy for Doctor to Diagnose

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THERE is this to be said for angina pectoris—it creates such unmistakable symptoms that it can seldom be ignored by the patient or confused by the doctor with any other form of heart disease.

When it is suspected that a person has this disorder, he should, of course, be carefully studied by his physician, and an electrocardiogram made. This is an electric tracing of the heart beat, and is helpful in the diagnosis.

Pain, either in the breast bone or over the heart, is its chief symptom. Though of short duration, it is usually severe while it lasts, often passing upward into the left shoulder and down the arm. Almost invariably it comes on during or immediately after exercise, emotional upssets or chilling.

Classic Picture

This is the classic picture, but sometimes the pain may be slight and in a little different location. Now and then, for instance, it may be felt chiefly in the upper part of the abdomen. Not only may the pain pass into the shoulder and arm but upward into the neck to the left side of the face. In severe cases, the pain may pass upward into both arms.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J. D.: About an hour after each meal my heart beats peculiarly. Can this be caused by stomach disorder?

Answer: A stomach disturbance might cause the irregularity in the heart beat. However, in order to be sure, you should have an examination made, including an electrocardiogram or electric tracing of the heart.

Decide Treatment

The physician will decide in each case just what treatment is necessary. In every case, of course, chilling, overstrain, and emotional upssets, which tend to bring on the attacks, must be avoided. These patients are supplied also with nitroglycerine which they can take when an attack threatens.

There are many facts concerning parts of the body is known as radiation. If the area of radiation should change, it may indicate that further changes in the heart may have occurred, such as further narrowing of the opening through the coronary arteries.

In addition to the pain, there may be other symptoms, such as sweating, weakness, fainting, collapse, etc. These are to be taken when an attack threatens.

HOPE MAKES IT POSSIBLE

The physician will decide in each case just what treatment is necessary. In every case, of course, chilling, overstrain, and emotional upssets, which tend to bring on the attacks, must be avoided. These patients are supplied also with nitroglycerine which they can take when an attack threatens.

QUESTION OF ETHICS

THERE is definitely a question of ethics—or, rather, a series of questions—connected with the matter of claiming or conceding the remaining tricks. Whenever the declarer, or a defender, can be certain that the remaining tricks are his or are sure to be taken by the other side, he should unhesitatingly make his claim or concession and thus save the time of all concerned. He is only wasting their unrecovable moments if he instead continues to play on unnecessarily.

Special Tributes Paid Mothers At Three Social Events Staged Monday

Varied Programs Are Given

Special tributes were paid mothers at three social events staged Monday evening in Circleville. The affairs were arranged by Von Bora Society of Trinity Lutheran church, Trailmakers Class of Calvary EUB church and Mrs. Marion's Sunday School Class of First Methodist church.

Places were marked by small vases for 140 members at the Von Bora dinner held in Lutheran parish house. Long tables were decorated with tulips and lighted taper candles with yellow and green being the predominating colors.

The program was arranged by Mrs. Charles Walters. Mrs. Martin Lorentz served as toastmistress. The welcoming address was given by Mrs. Everett Peters of Lockbourne. The response was by her mother, Mrs. E. L. Runkle of Ashville. Mrs. Robert Norman sang "For My Mother." Miss Arlene Palm sang "Oh Lord On High." Warren Leist played two piano selections. Mrs. Norman and Miss Palm sang two duets. They were accompanied by Mrs. G. L. Troutman.

Guest speaker was Miss Clara Kemler of Columbus. Her topic was "How Firm A Foundation." She stressed the home and family theme, placing emphasis on family worship.

Mother's Day Highlights PTA Special Program

One hundred ten persons attended the concluding Jackson Township PTA meeting Monday evening in the auditorium of the school building.

A tea was given by Trailmakers Class of the Calvary EUB church under the direction of its president, Mrs. Edward Boost. Sixty guests attended that event which was staged in Calvary church.

The program was arranged by Mrs. Andrew Goeller and Mrs. James A. Herbst. In charge of the tea and refreshments were Mrs. Manley Carothers, Mrs. Joseph Brink and Mrs. Carl Agin; favors, Mrs. W. C. Shasheen; decorations, Mrs. Robert Hildenbrand and Mrs. Bill Ankrom.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Boost and Mrs. Harry Lutz. Each person was presented with a blooming plant. Colors used for decorations included pastel shades of pink, green and yellow.

The program opened with musical recordings and group singing "Our Mother." The program consisted of a piano solo by Lydia Delong, two readings by Mrs. Fred Glick, an accordian solo by Betty Glitt, musical recitation by Betty Strawser; trumpet solo by Douglas Glitt, and a vocal solo by Mrs. Ethel Hill.

The oldest and youngest mothers were presented with gifts. These were Mrs. M. E. Carothers and Mrs. Hill.

Wardell Party Home was the setting for Mrs. Marion's Sunday School Class annual Mother's Day banquet. Places were laid for 40 members and guests. A May pole and carnations were used for decorations on the small tables. Favors marked places for the mothers and guests. Gifts were presented the oldest and youngest mothers—Mrs. R. T. Liston and Mrs. Ray Friend.

Mrs. George Marion of Columbus, former class teacher, was present for the occasion and spoke briefly to the group. Invocation was given by Miss Letha Belle Beavers, present teacher. Welcoming address was voiced by Mrs. Olan V. Bostwick. Miss Jennine Bell sang "The Rosary" accompanied by Miss Beverly Reid.

The Rev. Elisha Kneisley, pastor of the church, gave a brief address, as did Miss Beavers. A reading on the theme of the occasion was given by Mrs. William T. Ulm.

Those in charge of the arrangements included Mrs. J. Howard Cook, Mrs. Harold Ullom, Mrs. Charles Rader, Miss Margie Carmean, Mrs. Roger Lozier, Mrs. William Leist, Mrs. Harold Pontius, Mrs. Ernest Young, Mrs. Berman Wertman, Mrs. Frank Marion, Mrs. Virgil Newman, Mrs. Robert Elsea and Mrs. Herschel Hill.

Guest speaker was Miss Clara Kemler of Columbus. Her topic was "How Firm A Foundation." She stressed the home and family theme, placing emphasis on family worship.

Gifts were presented to Mrs. H. P. Folsom of East Main street, oldest mother present, and Nancy Bower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Bower, Beverly road, youngest daughter present.

COVERED WAGONS TO BE FEATURED

Savings Bonds Drive Due To Get Underway Sunday

Pickaway County Savings Bonds buyers and boosters will have their eyes on Independence, Mo., Sunday.

That will be the opening of Opportunity Savings Bonds drive. It will be a great celebration as the national campaign to buy more Savings Bonds gets underway.

Here in Pickaway County, however, there probably will be no outstanding campaign.

Common Pleas Judge William Radcliff, chairman of Savings Bonds sales for the area, indicated that since the county already is doing above average in the purchase of the bonds, no special emphasis will be placed.

Judge Radcliff's monthly reports on sales have shown that Savings Bonds sales here have been steadily on the increase the last several months.

THE INDEPENDENCE celebration, however, will be detailed. It will center around the motif of old pioneer days.

Genuine covered wagons will be flown from Cedar City, Utah, by Navy and Army planes and will form a "security circle" in the Missouri hometown of President Truman.

Independence is located in Jackson County which will have a goal of $7 million in Savings Bonds sales. The national goal is $1,040,000,000 in Series E bonds.

Participating in the big event will be Governor Earl Warren of California and Governor Paul Dever of Massachusetts.

President Truman and Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder will participate in a coast to coast radio kickoff with appeals to every potential buyer of Savings Bonds to enroll in the payroll savings or bond-a-month plans as well as investing in extra savings bonds during the drive which will run from May 16 to June 30.

MORE THAN 3,000,000 volunteers, including 200,000 newspaperboys who will deliver a special pamphlet to 12,000,000 homes, have been enlisted by the United States Savings Bonds Division to help sell E Bonds to friends and neighbors. The theme of the campaign is "Put More Opportunity in Your Future."

Spearheading the greatest peacetime promotion in support of savings bonds is the motion picture industry which is sending its major stars on tours, sponsoring bond premiers and exhibiting a special bond movie, starring Jack Benny.

Children's Home To Operate Own Boy Scout Units

Pickaway County Children's Home plans to organize and operate its own Boy Scout and Cub Scout groups soon.

According to Winfield Koch, superintendent of the home, all plans for organizing the groups have been completed with the exception of selecting the committee and receiving the charter.

John Magill, president of the Pickaway District Committee, said the two groups would be fitted into the district programs.

Koch plans to take over the Scoutmaster duties of the groups, which now boast five members in the Cub Pack and seven members in the Boy Scout Troop.

He said he plans to join the rest of the district troops in the annual camporee to be held behind the Children's Home in June.

Lad, 11, Proud; Routs Prowler

CLEVELAND, May 10—Eleven-year-old George Rittwage Jr., was the proudest kid in the block today.

George, who is in the fourth grade in a Cleveland school, tackled a husky prowler who attempted to choke his sister in their east side home yesterday and then chased him through backyards.

His sister Janet, had fallen asleep on a couch downstairs and suddenly awakened to find a dark-skinned man bending over her, she told police. George dashed down the stairs and chased the assailant out the back door.

Vernon L. Here in Pickaway County, however, there probably will be no outstanding campaign.

Common Pleas Judge William Radcliff, chairman of Savings Bonds sales for the area, indicated that since the county already is doing above average in the purchase of the bonds, no special emphasis will be placed.

Judge Radcliff's monthly reports on sales have shown that Savings Bonds sales here have been steadily on the increase the last several months.

Genuine covered wagons will be flown from Cedar City, Utah, by Navy and Army planes and will form a "security circle" in the Missouri hometown of President Truman.

Independence is located in Jackson County which will have a goal of $7 million in Savings Bonds sales. The national goal is $1,040,000,000 in Series E bonds.

Participating in the big event will be Governor Earl Warren of California and Governor Paul Dever of Massachusetts.

President Truman and Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder will participate in a coast to coast radio kickoff with appeals to every potential buyer of Savings Bonds to enroll in the payroll savings or bond-a-month plans as well as investing in extra savings bonds during the drive which will run from May 16 to June 30.

MORE THAN 3,000,000 volunteers, including 200,000 newspaperboys who will deliver a special pamphlet to 12,000,000 homes, have been enlisted by the United States Savings Bonds Division to help sell E Bonds to friends and neighbors. The theme of the campaign is "Put More Opportunity in Your Future."

Spearheading the greatest peacetime promotion in support of savings bonds is the motion picture industry which is sending its major stars on tours, sponsoring bond premiers and exhibiting a special bond movie, starring Jack Benny.

Children's Home To Operate Own Boy Scout Units

Pickaway County Children's Home plans to organize and operate its own Boy Scout and Cub Scout groups soon.

According to Winfield Koch, superintendent of the home, all plans for organizing the groups have been completed with the exception of selecting the committeemen and receiving the charter.

John Magill, president of the Pickaway District Committee, said the two groups would be fitted into the district programs.

Koch plans to take over the Scoutmaster duties of the groups, which now boast five members in the Cub Pack and seven members in the Boy Scout Troop.

He said he plans to join the rest of the district troops in the annual camporee to be held behind the Children's Home in June.

Lad, 11, Proud; Routs Prowler

CLEVELAND, May 10—Eleven-year-old George Rittwage Jr., was the proudest kid in the block today.

George, who is in the fourth grade in a Cleveland school, tackled a husky prowler who attempted to choke his sister in their east side home yesterday and then chased him through backyards.

His sister Janet, had fallen asleep on a couch downstairs and suddenly awakened to find a dark-skinned man bending over her, she told police. George dashed down the stairs and chased the assailant out the back door.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

Reg U S Patent Office

Hybrid Tomatoes Nudge NatureBy DEAN HALLIDAY
Distributed by Central Press Association

HOME gardeners keep hearing more and more about hybrid varieties of vegetables, the result of mating of unlike though related plants.

Many gardeners are finding that hybrid tomatoes are strong, vigorous growers and out-yield regular varieties.

They should be planted in good soil. Because hybrid tomatoes have the ability to produce larger plants and higher yield they must be fed more than standard tomatoes.

Among the hybrid varieties are some that are extra early. One variety, Burpeeana, matures in 58 days.

Its fruits are of an attractive, deep globular shape, medium size, a rich scarlet in color and are borne profusely in clusters of 5 to 8, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

One variety, a 78-day type known as Big Boy, has heavy dark green foliage which protects the fruit from sun-scald. The plants are very large, extremely vigorous and semi-upright to spreading in habit. The fruits of this new giant hybrid tomato weigh nearly a pound.

Because hybrid tomatoes require a lot of food for growth, it is desirable to make an application of fertilizer at the time of planting. If possible, cover the ground around the plants with well-rotted manure when the plants begin to bloom or set their first fruit.

Telephone Call Received Here From Yokohama

A Circleville woman received what she termed a "wonderful Mother's Day present" from her daughter and son-in-law.

She is Mrs. Sam Winfough of 129 West Ohio street, who received a telephone call Sunday from Captain and Mrs. James Dunton of Yokohama, Japan.

Mrs. Winfough explained that her son-in-law has been stationed with the Army in Yokohama for the last three years, while her daughter, formerly Dorothy Winfough, joined him there last year.

She reports them in good health and that they probably will be home next Christmas.

May Brings Great Need For Safety

Sheriff Urging Special Caution

The warm weather of the last week, the approach of Memorial Day weekend and school vacation combine to introduce the big season for accidents in public places.

Pickaway County Sheriff Charles Radcliff Tuesday said that "from Memorial Day to Labor Day we experience most of this type of accident." He added:

"Drownings start to increase in May as some of the boys just can't wait any longer for their first swim. None of Ohio's waters are warm enough for comfortable swimming this early. Consequently, we can expect a few 'cramps' cases any day. Some will result fatally."

Evening snacks outdoors and weekend picnics will produce many falls and quite a few burns, he said. Most parks and campsites will not be ready for visitors until the end of the month.

EARLY PICNICERS will have to be alert for twigs, branches or stones on trails and paths, for wet or muddy spots, and use extreme care with campfires.

Although the vegetation is green and moist, there may be dead grass and leaves which the camp fire would dry out and ignite. Clear the fire area of such burnable stuff, and be sure the fire is well wet down and out before you leave it.

The vacant lot play spots should be gone over. Sticks, stones, wire, glass, old cans and such trash should be removed before some youngster falls over or on it and is badly hurt.

"May is Safety Month in Ohio. You can make it safer by cleaning up the hazards in the recreational areas and supporting the Green Cross for Safety," Radcliff said. "Let's observe Memorial Day for those who died serving their country, and not by adding to the number dying by accident."

Output Of Steel Is Holding Near Capacity Level

CLEVELAND, May 10—Magazine Steel asserted today that, despite order cancellations and curtailed buying, tremendous tonnage of steel still is moving into the usual consuming channels.

The national metalworking industry publications declared that with steel ingot production still booming along only a few points below the capacity level attained earlier this year, the question as to where the steel is going is becoming increasingly pertinent.

However, Steel continued, new buying and old commitments have combined to take up the slack caused by cancellations. The magazine added:

"Actually a high level of business, such as experienced over recent years, usually engenders considerable momentum well after the peak in demand has passed. Consequently, the present robust production should not be too surprising."

The recession in buying to date, on the whole, has been moderately gradual. Moreover,

Rightwing UEW Candidate Urges Complete Ouster Of Communists

DAYTON, May 10—The newly-nominated rightwing candidate for the presidency of the CIO United Electrical Workers today leveled charges the union is filled with Communists.

In his acceptance speech, Frederick Kelley, 38-year-old resident of the Lynn, Mass., General Electric Local 201, told 300 rightwing delegates:

"You've got to put up with Communists spying in your locals. Give them as little information as possible. Fight them every inch of the way."

Kelley's nomination came as rightwing representatives from seven states gathered to form an anti-administration bloc to carry the national election in Cleveland next September.

National CIO Secretary-Treasurer James B. Carey lent at least tacit approval to the conference.

Carey, one-time possible presidential candidate for the union, bowed out in a speech which gave whole-hearted endorsement to the slate of candidates. He attended as a delegate from Local 101, Philco Corp., Philadelphia.

The conference announced that it has a clear majority of the voting strength for the Sept. 19 election. The rightwingers claim 285,000 of an estimated 500,000 votes.

Lem Markland, president of District Seven and recognized as a leftwinger, called the conference a "dud firecracker" and claimed the three

New Idle Pay Bill Is Lashed By Executives

COLUMBUS, May 10 — The Guthrie bill on unemployment compensation came in for a barrage of criticism today from the Ohio Trade Association executives unemployment compensation committee.

The association blasted still existant loopholes in the compensation law, and charged that every "Tom, Dick and Harry" could voluntarily quit his job and collect benefits.

It also posed the question of whether an unemployed worker should receive unemployment compensation for his children.

The senate-approved bill, now before the house, would give an unemployed worker with two children an extra $5 a week in benefits.

The association quoted Republican Representative Roger Cloud of Logan County as stating that dependent children should not receive benefits since they are not earners.

The association also asserted that the Guthrie bill does not

May Brings Great Need For Safety

Sheriff Urging Special Caution

The warm weather of the last week, the approach of Memorial Day weekend and school vacation combine to introduce the big season for accidents in public places.

Pickaway County Sheriff Charles Radcliff Tuesday said that "from Memorial Day to Labor Day we experience most of this type of accident." He added:

"Drownings start to increase in May as some of the boys just can't wait any longer for their first swim. None of Ohio's waters are warm enough for comfortable swimming this early. Consequently, we can expect a few 'cramps' cases any day. Some will result fatally."

Evening snacks outdoors and weekend picnics will produce many falls and quite a few burns, he said. Most parks and campsites will not be ready for visitors until the end of the month.

EARLY PICNICKERS will have to be alert for twigs, branches or stones on trails and paths, for wet or muddy spots, and use extreme care with campfires.

Although the vegetation is green and moist, there may be dead grass and leaves which the camp fire would dry out and ignite. Clear the fire area of such burnable stuff, and be sure the fire is well wet down and out before you leave it.

The vacant lot play spots should be gone over. Sticks, stones, wire, glass, old cans and such trash should be removed before some youngster falls over or on it and is badly hurt.

"May is Safety Month in Ohio. You can make it safer by cleaning up the hazards in the recreational areas and supporting the Green Cross for Safety," Radcliff said. "Let's observe Memorial Day for those who died serving their country, and not by adding to the number dying by accident."

Output Of Steel Is Holding Near Capacity Level

CLEVELAND, May 10—Machinery Steel asserted today that, despite order cancellations and curtailed buying, tremendous tonnage of steel still is moving into the usual consuming channels.

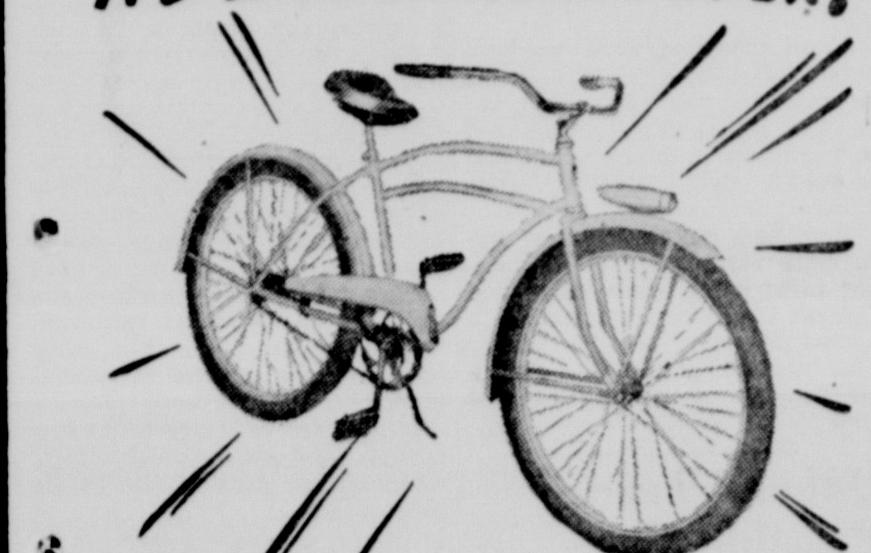

The national metalworking industry publications declared that with steel ingot production still booming along only a few points below the capacity level attained earlier this year, the question as to where the steel is going is becoming increasingly pertinent.

However, Steel continued, new buying and old commitments have combined to take up the slack caused by cancellations. The magazine added:

"Actually a high level of business, such as experienced over recent years, usually engenders considerable momentum well after the peak in demand has passed. Consequently, the present robust production should not be too surprising."

The recession in buying to date, on the whole, has been moderately gradual. Moreover, pension law, and charged that every "Tom, Dick and Harry" could voluntarily quit his job and collect benefits.

THINKING ABOUT A CAREER?

It also posed the question of whether an unemployed worker should receive unemployment compensation for his children.

The senate-approved bill, now before the house, would give an unemployed worker with two children an extra $5 a week in benefits.

The association quoted Republican Representative Roger Cloud of Logan County as stating that dependent children should not receive benefits since they are not earners.

The association also asserted that the Guthrie bill does not close the loop hole which allows jobless persons to stay in Florida or California and collect compensation checks.

Rightwing UEW Candidate Urges Complete Ouster Of Communists

DAYTON, May 10—The newly-nominated rightwing candidate for the presidency of the CIO United Electrical Workers today leveled charges the union is filled with Communists.

In his acceptance speech, Frederick Kelley, 38-year-old President of the Lynn, Mass., General Electric Local 201, told 300 rightwing delegates here:

"You've got to put up with Communists spying in your locals. Give them as little information as possible. Fight them every inch of the way."

Kelley's nomination came as rightwing representatives from seven states gathered to form an anti-administration bloc to carry the national election in Cleveland next September.

National CIO Secretary-Treasurer James B. Carey told 300 rightwing delegates at the conference.

Carey, one-time possible presidential candidate for the union, bowed out in a speech which gave whole-hearted endorsement to the slate of candidates. He attended as a delegate from Local 101, Pfleider Corp., Philadelphia.

The conference announced that it has a clear majority of the voting strength for the Sept. 19 election. The rightwingers claim 285,000 of an estimated 500,000 votes.

Lem Markland, president of District Seven and recognized as a leftwinger, called the conference a "dud firecracker" and claimed the three with your vilification; I can take it. But get off the people who are supporting me."

Giants Set Fire To NL Race

Homerun Clip Close To 1948's

NEW YORK, May 10.—The New York Giants not only are setting the National League on fire with seven straight wins, but also are threatening to duplicate or surpass their homerun feast of 1947.

OSU Coach Wes Fesler is to unveil his scarlet team in the big stadium Saturday afternoon and the two Circleville men, along with an estimated 18,000 other persons, are expecting to attend.

The afternoon will be featured by the 18th annual intra-squad game between the Reds and Whites.

The game brings to a close seven weeks of Spring preparation for the forthcoming season and will display Ohio State's highly-touted sophomore sensation, Vic Janowicz.

In that year the New Yorkers set an all-time mark of 221 circuit clouts for one club in a season. This year they are hitting homers at almost the same pace—28 in 20 games.

Sid Gordon and Willard Marshall hit for the circuit in last night's 7 to 2 win over the Chicago Cubs. Gordon leads the big league homerun derby with seven.

New York's pennant prospects were enhanced on another count when Sheldon Jones went the route on the mound.

THE TEAM'S pitchers, rated among the worst in the majors before the season started, have gone without a hurler being knocked out of the box, in nine of their last 10 games.

Boston's Braves snapped out of their slump and advanced to second place, a game and a half behind New York, by beating Pittsburgh 4 to 1 behind another three-hitter by Vern Bickford.

Jim Russell sparked Boston's attack with a double and single which figured in two rallies.

Brooklyn lost to the St. Louis Cardinals, 14 to 5, and dropped to third place.

Two rookie Cardinal infielders led the attack. Eddie Kazak, the league's leading hitter, knocked in five runs with a grand-slam homer and a double. Tommy Glaviano made three hits, including a three-run homer and a double.

BROOKLYN lost the services of Billy Cox for at least two weeks when the third baseman sprained an ankle.

Cincinnati and the Phillies were rained out.

In the only game scheduled in the American League, the pace-setting New York Yankees were beaten 4 to 1 by Detroit when Ed Gray held them to five hits. The starting and losing pitcher for New York was Vic Raschi, who had won four straight games without a defeat.

Calumet Pair Top Weighted

ARCADIA, Cal., May 10—Citation and Coaltown were top-weighted at 132 pounds today for the mile and one-quarter Hollywood Gold Cup to be run July 16 at Santa Anita Park.

Weights for the $100,000 net guaranteed race were announced by Racing Secretary John Malvius. In all, 87 thoroughbreds were given imposts ranging from the Calumet Farm's pair of 132 to 100 for composition.

Hollywood park's 50-day meeting opens Tuesday, May 17, at Santa Anita.

Local Coaches Plan Attending OSU Grid Clinic

Steve Brudzinski, Circleville head football coach, and Tom Bennett, his assistant, are expected to get a preview of the 1949 Ohio State university grid team Saturday.

OSU Coach Wes Fesler is to unveil his scarlet team in the big stadium Saturday afternoon and the two Circleville men, along with an estimated 18,000 other persons, are expecting to attend.

The afternoon will be featured by the 18th annual intra-squad game between the Reds and Whites.

The game brings to a close seven weeks of Spring preparation for the forthcoming season and will display Ohio State's highly-touted sophomore sensation, Vic Janowicz.

IT ALSO CLIMAXES the annual Ohio High School Coaches Clinic which will attract some 800 of the state's gridiron mentors for the two-day sessions Friday and Saturday.

Coach Fesler and his staff will explain the Buckeye's single wing and unbalanced line formations. Ohio coaches will also get a glimpse of Buckeye plays in addition to films of recent Scarlet and Gray games.

Bud Wilkinson, Oklahoma university coach, will be the only out-of-state skipper to lecture. He will initiate proceedings on Friday with talk on offensive and defensive tactics.

Bup Rearick of Canton McKinley, and Chuck Mather, Massillon coach, will be featured speakers at Saturday's clinic meet preceding the intra-squad game.

Los Angeles Girl Wins WIBC Medal

COLUMBUS, May 10.—Tall, smooth Phyllis Vogel rolled herself to a diamond medal with a six-game 1120 series in the major division of the Women's International Bowling Congress sweepstakes last night.

The svelte Los Angeles housewife passed Doris Knechtges of Detroit, who wound up in third place.

The minor division championship diamond medal went to Betty Jean Gaston of Seattle, who racked up 944 over the 12-alley course.

The game brings to a close seven weeks of Spring preparation for the forthcoming season and will display Ohio State's highly-touted sophomore sensation, Vic Janowicz.

In that year the New Yorkers set an all-time mark of 221 circuit clouts for one club in a season. This year they are hitting homers at almost the same pace—28 in 20 games.

Sid Gordon and Willard Marshall hit for the circuit in last night's 7 to 2 win over the Chicago Cubs. Gordon leads the big league homerun derby with seven.

New York's pennant prospects were enhanced on another count when Sheldon Jones went the route on the mound.

THE TEAM'S pitchers, rated among the worst in the majors before the season started, have come without a hurler being knocked out of the box, in nine of their last 10 games.

Bud Wilkinson, Oklahoma university coach, will be the only out-of-state skipper to lecture. He will initiate proceedings on Friday with a talk on offensive and defensive tactics.

Bup Rieck of Canton McKinley, and Chuck Mather, Massillon coach, will be featured speakers at Saturday's clinic meet preceding the inter-squad game.

Brooklyn lost to the St. Louis Cardinals, 14 to 5, and dropped to third place.

Two rookie Cardinal infielders led the attack. Eddie Kazak, the league's leading hitter, knocked in five runs with a grand-slam homer and a double. Tommy Glaviano made three hits, including a three-run homer and a double.

BROOKLYN lost the services of Billy Cox for at least two weeks when the third baseman sprained an ankle.

Cincinnati and the Phillies were rained out.

In the only game scheduled in the American League, the pace-setting New York Yankees were beaten 4 to 1 by Detroit when Ed Gray held them to five hits.

The starting and losing pitcher for New York was Vic Raschi, who had won four straight games without a defeat.

Calumet Pair Top Weighted

ARCADIA, Cal., May 10.—Citation and Coaltown were top-weighted at 132 pounds today for the mile and one-quarter Hollywood Gold Cup to be run July 16 at Santa Anita Park.

Weights for the $100,000 net guaranteed race were announced by Racing Secretary John Malivius. In all, 87 thoroughbreds were given imposts ranging from the Calumet Farm's pair of 132 to 100 for composition.

Hollywood park's 50-day meeting opens Tuesday, May 17, at Santa Anita.

Donkeys Delayed

American Legion vs. Circleville Booster Club donkey softball game, postponed Monday because of wet grounds, is slated to be staged in Ted Lewis Park at 8 p. m. Tuesday.

Local Coaches Plan Attending OSU Grid Clinic

Steve Brudzinski, Circleville head football coach, and Tom Bennett, his assistant, are expected to get a preview of the 1949 Ohio State university grid team Saturday.

OSU Coach Wes Fesler is to unveil his scarlet team in the big stadium Saturday afternoon and the two Circleville men, along with an estimated 18,000 other persons, are expecting to attend.

The afternoon will be featured by the 18th annual intra-squad game between the Reds and Whites.

The game brings to a close seven weeks of Spring preparation for the forthcoming season and will display Ohio State's highly-touted sophomore sensation, Vic Janowicz.

Los Angeles Girl Wins WIBC Medal

COLUMBUS, May 10.—Tall, smooth Phyllis Vogel rolled herself to a diamond medal with a six-game 1120 series in the major division of the Women's International Bowling Congress sweepstakes last night.

The svelte Los Angeles housewife passed Doris Knechtges of Detroit, who wound up in third place.

The minor division champion diamond medal went to Betty Jean Gaston of Seattle, who racked up 944 over the 12-alley course.
